

Bitcoin Inheritance Plan

Technical roadmap for my heirs

This document is meant to help my heirs locate and recover my bitcoins.

SECTION 1 – Handwritten inheritance letter (.../...)

Date: _____

Location: _____

Dear _____,

*If you are reading this letter, it means that I am no longer able to manage my bitcoins myself.
I wrote this document to help you understand what I own in bitcoins and how you can recover it safely.*

*Please read this letter completely before taking any action.
Bitcoin is a system without intermediaries: if a mistake is made, there is often no way to reverse it.*

*In the “Trusted contacts and helpers” section of this plan (Section 2), you will find a list of people I trust.
Some of them are family members or close friends; others are technical or legal professionals.
You should contact at least two of them, compare their advice, and never rely on a single person.*

*In the “Bitcoin holdings inventory” section (Section 3), you will find an overview of my accounts, wallets and devices related to Bitcoin.
This inventory tells you where to look for my holdings and where the recovery information is stored.
It does not contain my recovery phrases, private keys or full passwords. Those secrets are stored separately in secure locations.*

SECTION 1 – Handwritten inheritance letter (.../...)

Please follow these rules carefully:

- Do not rush. Take the time to learn and to ask questions before moving any funds.
- Never give a full recovery phrase (the list of words) to a single person.
- Do not enter any recovery phrase into an unknown or untrusted software/computer.
- Beware of scams.
- Use the help of people listed in Section 2, but do not give them direct control over all the funds.
- Keep notes of the steps you follow.
